

150 CANTINE PER ANTEPRIMA CHIANTI INSIEME AL MORELLINO

FLORENCE - There are 150 companies present at the wineries 'Chianti Lovers', preview the new wine vintages promoted by the consortium Chianti wine in which he participates, since last year, also the Consortium of Morellino di Scansano. The event, open to the public in the afternoon, is scheduled for February 10 at the Fortezza da Basso in Florence, he said in a statement, where they expected 400 journalists and thousands of wine enthusiasts. In terms of Chianti, the protagonists are the wines produced by the consortium and the sub consortia: Rufina, Colli Fiorentini, Colli Senesi, Arezzo hills, Montalbano, Pisan Hills, Montespertoli, and the labels of twenty-five Maremma cellars for Morellino di Scansano.

New this year will be an event entirely dedicated to over 30 foreign buyers from all over the world for them was organized a seminar with tasting during the morning. "Lovers Chianti is growing year by year, has become an awaited and prestigious event and consolidates the name domestically and in the international scene," says Giovanni Busi, president of the consortium Chianti wine. "The turnout of the public and the interest of the experts is a great signal on the appreciation of the product and its performance." "We are pleased to continue the path started last year and again be present with our preview Chianti Lovers - says Rossano Teglielli, president of the Consortium of Morellino di Scansano - public and professionals of Italian and international industry will be able to taste in a ' only time two different expressions of Sangiovese, the result of terroir with unique and distinctive features ". Please follow and like us: