Company Profile

The Cantina Colli Fiorentini Winery is a leader #1 in the production of Chianti and among the main producers in Italy thanks to the progress and investments of recent years, the result is a refined, elaborate, and high-quality product. The company was founded in 1972 by 32 little farmers and nowadays we are 350 members and we protect about 1500 ha of the Tuscan landscape. Our desire is to give continuity to the family tradition of small peasant realities, to give them a future that independently they could not have, in parallel to protecting the environment and the beauty of the rural landscape, contributing to the local tourist micro-economy.

Company Profile

The Castle, built before the XII century, is linked to the history of the Pazzi, a rich family of bankers during the Florentine Renaissance who, between the XII and XIV centuries, acquired ownership of all the land surrounding the castle, making it their stronghold. In 1968, the Baj Macario family bought the Castle and the surrounding land, transforming a testimony of history into the flourishing winery and agritourism company that it is today. If it is true that people make the difference, Anna Baj Macario and her husband Stefano Casadei have certainly done so for Castello del Trebbio over the past thirty years. Their dreams have been transformed into projects that are now taking shape under the name of Famiglia Casadei, a company group which includes Castello del Trebbio, as well as the other group estates Casadei and Olianas, and which operates according to the principles of Biointegrale® sustainability.

Company Profile

In the Chianti region, spreading over 18 hectares, 14 of which with vineyards, Colle Adimari is immersed in the typical tuscan rural landscape. The terroir is a perfect union between climate and ground and the complexity of the soil, partly sandy and partly calcareous and loamier, gives our wines a distinctive connotation, strenght and vitality. We are brother and sister; together we take care of the vineyards our grandfather passed on to us. Every year we pick our grapes and dedicate ourselves to producing genuine wines linked to the land we grew up on. It is in this way that territory wines are produced, mainly Sangiovese with an eye to drinkability and the aromatic spectrum.

Company Profile

The Colognole agricultural estate, or tenuta, was purchased by Conte Venceslao Spalletti in 1892, when, as a Senator in the Kingdom of Italy, he had to move his family from their native city of Reggio Emilia to Rome, to follow the King. He then acquired this property in Tuscany to remain close to the rural life that he had loved on his tenuta of Sant' Ilario in the region of Emilia. His sons Giambattista and Cesare, however, were the ones responsible for developing the potential of the estate during the first half of the 19th century. They gave its production the direction that still marks it today: the grapevine and the olive tree.

The Spalletti Chianti, in the 1960s, was one of the great ambassadors to the world of the Tuscan culture, and the great Reserve of Poggio Reale stood out for their elegance and impressive longevity. The tenuta is still owned by Contessa Gabriella Spalletti, and the Colognole agricultural operation, the azienda agricola, is managed by two among her five children, Mario and Cesare Coda Nunziante.

Company Profile

Castello di Poppiano is an impressive medieval building erected around the turn of the first millennium as a fortress for the external defence of the town of Florence. It has been the property of the Guicciardini for almost nine hundred years since the XII century. In the XVI century it was owned by the Historian Francesco Guicciardini author of the "Historia d' Italia". Ferdinando Guicciardini, the present owner, inherited Castello di Poppiano and its estate in 1962, just as share-cropping (which had been for centuries the traditional farming contract in Tuscany) was coming to an end. That was a difficult period which ultimately led to radical changes to our estate, including crop specialization and upgrading of processing facilities, whilst bearing in mind the fundamental principle that progress should always respect tradition. Castello di Poppiano is located in the area of "Chianti Colli Fiorentini" ("Chianti Hills of Florence").

An exceptional location in the midst of Tuscany's Chianti region, a wonderful atmosphere, stunning views of the olive groves and vineyards. This is Poggio Rozzi, that with a rich ecosystem, a good microclimate and rich soils offers ideal conditions for winegrowing. After a careful development, Eberhard, Count von Toggenburg now produces five Tuscan wines at the Poggio Rozzi winery, based on autochthonous Tuscan grape varieties, supplemented with selected varieties from central and northern Italy. Each individual wine carries a piece of the family history with it into the world and honours the strong personalities that stand behind it.

The Tamburini Winery covers an area of 50 hectares, including magnificent vineyards in Chianti and the Montalcino area, along with olive groves and glorious woods. Since 1890, the Tamburini family have produced the finest wines, organic olive oil and grappa, a high-quality liqueur and a typically local Italian product. In 1967, Mauro, Italo's son, carries on the family business, further expanding the firm's vineyards to their current size of approximately fifty hectares. In 2002, Mauro's daughter Emanuela enters the firm, initiating a new and significant investment in the improvement of production and vineyard technologies. Emanuela, professionally trained in enology, modifies the firm's approach to the production and sale of its wines.

Company Profile

Tenuta San Jacopo is a multi awarded tuscan farm founded in 1737 in Cavriglia, between Chianti Classico and the Valdarno Superiore in the first totally organic wine production area in Europe. It extends for 140 hectares located at about 300 m.s.l. , of which 40 are vineyards, and then olive trees and woods, entirely converted to the Organic agriculture since 2003. Here we produce red and white wines, a sparkling wine, grappa and olive oil. Among the vines are grown Sangiovese, Trebbiano, Montepulciano, Merlot, Cabernet S. and Chardonnay. Wide range of wines and prices, entirely made by our grapes, vinified in our cellar by Costantino and his amazing team.

Uggiano was originally set up by the French school enologist Dr. Giuseppe Losapio in the Castle of Montespertoli. In 1976 the winery expanded and settled at San Vincenzo a Torri, a beautiful location in the heart of Tuscany, nestled in the countryside in the midst of monasteries, churches and country villas. Taking the professional reins from Dr. Giuseppe Losapio, 3 historical partners came into the business to fly the flag of Uggiano traditions with pride: a carefully selected, young and dynamic team whose main aim was to make people one of the core strengths of the business. Chianti Colli Fiorentini D.O.C.G., with Chianti Riserva D.O.C.G. "The Pheasant", the Merlot and Cabernet Sauvignon based Supertuscans represent the highest expression of Uggiano's winemaking tradition as well as being the symbols of its success. Since 2019 Uggiano run another winery based in Maremma (Southern Tuscany) called Tenuta Aquilaia. This winery is located in an old Etruscan settlement where local grape varieties such as Vermentino, Ciliegiole and Sangiovese are well matched with the international grapes Chardonnay, Petit Verdot, Alicante and Merlot.

The company Val di Botte is located 20 km from the city of Florence in the old village of San Donato in Val di Botte. At the confluence of Botte and Piovola creeks, there's a small village with a church dating back to 1200 AD. Here, 170 hectares, whose vineyards are planted with Sangiovese, Canaiolo, Merlot and Cabernet grapes, produce Chianti DOCG and Tuscan IGT. Other vineyards, located near the town of Greve in Chianti provide grapes for Chianti Classico DOCG.

A close cooperation with a big company in Tuscany allows us to use the latest technology for vinification, for wine aging and bottling, and achieving the perfect balance between technology and tradition.

Company Profile

The history of Travignoli is connected to wine production since 1100, Vallembrasan records describe vineyards already under cultivation at the site of Travignoli in 28/11/110. In 1473 Travignoli is left to the Florentine Hospital Santa Maria Nuova in the will of its proprietor and Villa Travignoli is described as the most important of the hospital properties. At this point, Travignoli boasts 11 small farms and two oil mills, as well as granaries and enormous cellars. Then in 1800 the complex Villa Travignoli becomes part of the Busi Family. Count Clemente Busi garners a gold medal for Travignoli at Rome's International wine exhibition for the superb quality of its Chianti wine. In 1927 Clemente Busi becomes one of the founders of the Chianti Consortium. Today Travignoli is run by Giovanni Busi. The Busi family receives the "Italia 150" award from the Unioncamere Nazionale ( Italian Chamber of Commerce). This award recognises Travignoli's success and longevity as one of the 150 most antique enterprises in Italy and in 2023 Travignoli celebrated its 550 years of history.
